New Castle and Lawrence County citizens proved they have not forgotten the deeds of valor of the boys of World War One, when they gathered in huge throngs along the Washington street line of march to witness one of the most colorful Armistice Day parades ever seen here. The parade formed on the outer East Side and moved along Washington street to the public square then up Jefferson street to Falls street.

The reviewing stand was on North Jefferson street. The parade started shortly before 8 o'clock. Weather was real snappy, and the paraders stepped along at a lively pace.

There were 16 bands and bugle corps in the parade, and some snappy outfits were seen, with hundreds of marchers and some beautiful floats.

Well Handled

The parade was one of the best handled pageants ever staged in the city. New Castle police being aided by a detachment of the Pennsylvania motor police and city firemen, who did a splendid job of keeping the crowd from threatening out onto the street. In addition, part of Washington street and Jefferson street, were roped off through the street.

PA NEW OBSERVES

Witnessing the Armistice parade Tuesday evening, the people seemed pleased but quiet, no doubt thinking of World War No. 1, and the ominous days in which we now live.

Up in the lake region north of New Castle a heavy snow storm developed yesterday. Pa New is informed. At Ashtabula and Erie the storm was almost of the mid-winter type.

Just as the parade was finished last night, a telephone call came into The News editorial rooms: "How cold is it going to be tonight?" was the unexpected inquiry. Evidently the person on the line had been down town for the parade and had become so chilled that she thought the temperature was approaching zero.

Information received today is to the effect that the fitness relay race which started at Erie and extended to Philadelphia, routed through New Castle more than a week ago, ended successfully in Philadelphia yesterday. It was the idea that the relay would reach Independence Hall on Armistice Day, and the plans were carried out to the letter. About 1600 school boys took part in the relay race across the state.

With the change from street cars to buses a lot of long time records for street car operators working on the trolley lines in the city will come to an end. Some of the operators

House Begins Debate
On Combat Zone Ban

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—The house opens debate today on repeal of the combat zone provisions of the neutrality act, with the result of Democratic defection against President Roosevelt's foreign policy.

Return of scores of members to the city today was the signal for intensification of the drive of both administration leaders and foes for votes for the showdown expected late tomorrow.

A rising tide of mail was reported by many members as the non-interventionist campaign to induce people throughout the nation to wire and write congressmen, began to bear fruit.

Administration leaders confidently insisted that the House will accept the Senate amendments to the original armed ship bill, with predictions of the margin ranging from 20 to 75 votes.

Foes Gather

The hastily formed organization of foes of the measure, headed by Rep. Knutson (R) Minn., was summoned into session to devise new strategy to counteract the powerful administration campaign.

The House will debate the Senate amendments for eight hours, (Continued On Page Two)

Japan Assails Statements
By Knox And Churchill
As Being Provocative

TOKYO, Nov. 12.—Japanese authorities angrily expressed the opinion today that British Prime Minister Winston Churchill and American Secretary of the Navy Frank Knox are "competing with each other in making provocative statements."

EDITOR'S NOTE: Churchill on Monday promised Britain would declare war on Japan "within the hour" if Nippon and the United States become involved in hostilities.

(Secretary Knox last night at Providence, R. I., declared the United States will yield no further to Japan and that the "hour of decision is here.")

Statements Unwise

Quarters close to the Tokyo government asserted that statements such as those of Churchill and Knox were "unwise for men in their position" and argued that Japan has done nothing against the United States.

They maintained Japan was exercising the "utmost patience" in sending Saburo Kurusu as a special envoy to Washington "at the 11th hour" in an effort to straighten out Japanese-American difficulties.

Japanese newspapers accused Britain of trying to provoke war between Japan and the United States.

TOKYO, Nov. 12.—Japan today created a whole new string of "defense stations" around the Japanese islands as press and officialdom attacked British and American authorities for what were termed "provocative" statements.

From November 20 onward, the foreign office announced the naval stations at Ohminato, facing Tsugaru Straits, Chinkai, west of Fusan, Maku, in the Pescadore Islands west of Formosa, and Port Arthur will be known as "defense stations."

In addition, a similar zone will be created at Osaka to replace the present naval station at Hanshin.

Roosevelt Has Cold In Head

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—As a result of doffing his overcoat and hat in the chilly amphitheatre at the Arlington National cemetery yesterday while delivering his Armistice Day address, President Roosevelt developed a head cold which today confined him to his oval room study in the living quarters of the White House.

Rear Admiral Ross T. McIntire, White House physician, was not concerned about his patient, who was running no temperature. As a precautionary measure, however, the doctor suggested that he remain at the White House today and cancel any engagements.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—The United States and Great Britain today discussed what action to take against Finland in view of Helsinki's rejection of the American government's appeal to stop fighting and negotiate a separate peace with Soviet Russia.

Lord Halifax, British ambassador, discussed the Finnish government's rejection of the American appeal with Undersecretary of State Sumner Welles.

The impression prevailed in official quarters that Britain may soon declare war against Finland, while the government is expected to impose economic sanctions against the northern state.

Both the American and British governments are understood to feel that Finland is no longer master of her own affairs, but is under the domination of Nazi Germany.

Japanese Diplomat
Runs Into Delay

(International News Service)

MIDWAY ISLAND, Nov. 12.—Delayed for two days at this little mid-Pacific airbase by engine trouble which grounded the huge China Clipper, Saburo Kurusu, Japanese diplomat enroute to Washington with an urgent message from his government, was expected to resume his journey today with Honolulu as the next scheduled stop.

Kurusu said he had found the delay a pleasant one since it gave him the chance to rest. He pointed out that he and his secretary had left Tokyo last Wednesday on only 20 hours' notice, and added:

"The delay is most welcome to me."

The former Japanese ambassador to Berlin refused any comment on the purpose of his hurried trip to Washington, on which he reportedly is carrying Nippon's final terms for settlement of the Pacific by storm.

Barring further delay by storms along the route, the China Clipper is expected to reach San Francisco on Friday.

KUIBYSHEV, U. S. S. R., Nov. 12.—A battle of ever-growing ferocity was reported raging at the approaches to Tula, 110 miles south of Moscow today as the Nazis hurled vast new forces into the assault against the capital's defense bastion.

According to the Red army newspaper Red Star the German charge forced the Soviets back temporarily. Then, said the paper, the Russian forces counter-attacked "and the Germans retreated five miles."

The Communist newspaper Pravda said that on the southern front the Russian air force "annihilated" more than 5,200 enemy troops and destroyed 31 tanks, 250 trucks and other war materials.

Claim Victories

Soviet advisers claimed victories in at least five major battles while the high command reported fighting along the entire front and said new Luftwaffe attempts to raid Moscow had been beaten back.

Four German bombers were declared to have been shot down near Moscow.

S. A. Losovsky, vice foreign commissar and chief Soviet spokesman, announced that the "situation at the approaches to Moscow has improved."

He said German attacks have been halted and that the Soviet forces are counter-attacking daily and inflicting enormous losses on the enemy.

(International News Service)

ERIE, Pa., Nov. 12.—Loss was estimated at $75,000 as the result of a fire which gutted the two-story McDougall-Butler Paint and Hardware Store on upper State Street early today.

The cause of the blaze, believed to have started in the basement, has not been determined. Approximately $27,000 worth of stock was destroyed by the hungry flames.

Firemen fought the spectacular general alarm blaze for two hours before bringing it under control as cartridges in the stock room exploded and endangered the lives of firemen and spectators.

Smoke forced 22 guests from the Royal Hotel, adjoining the burning structure, from their rooms. Seven persons living in an apartment behind the store were also forced out into the street.

The loss was partially covered by insurance.

LONDON, Nov. 12.—With a tribute to the aid being rendered by the United States "on a scale unexampled in history," King George VI today reiterated Britain's determination to prosecute the war until final victory is achieved.

The king made his remarks in the traditional "speech from the throne" opening a new session of parliament. WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—While the mediation board he created to curb defense strikes began collapsing on his shoulders, President Roosevelt today made plans for the army to seize the nation's coal mines if John L. Lewis calls a new coal strike Friday.

The very existence of the mediation board was threatened when Phil Murray, CIO president, and Thomas Kennedy, secretary-treasurer of John L. Lewis' mine union, resigned Monday, 9 to 2, against recommending a union shop in coal mines owned by big steel corporations.

Other members of the board privately conceded that it could not function if the C. I. O. withdrew its support. Murray, so angry that he pounded his desk with his fists as he talked, explained that he and Kennedy were quitting the board because the decision in the coal dispute made "it impossible for labor to retain any confidence in its future actions."

Awaits Report

President Roosevelt, while exploring the possibilities of making a new eleventh-hour attempt at mediation, also awaited a report from army intelligence officers whether troops could take over the mines. A detail of intelligence officers, it was reliably reported, moved quietly into Pittsburgh early today, set up headquarters, and immediately obtained from steel companies blue prints of the mines, maps of coal areas, and charts of railroad lines moving coal.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Nov. 12.—An engineer was killed and three crew members were injured today when a New York Central passenger train was derailed 12 miles east of Rochester after striking a freight car at a way-report crossing station.

The engineer was Robert McColligan of Buffalo and the injured were two mail clerks and the fireman.

The wreck occurred when the train, bound for Chicago from New York, struck the derailed freight car as it swept past the coal station at 35 miles an hour. The engine of the passenger train and four mail and baggage cars were thrown from the tracks.

The main line of the New York Central was tied up by the wreck and traffic was re-routed.

Knox Says Hour Of Decision Is Near

Action Of Japan Can't Be Ignored

Instant Readiness For Defense Is Required In Pacific Says Navy Head

SPECIAL ENVOY COMING TO U. S.

(International News Service) PROVIDENCE, R. I., Nov. 12.—The time has come when the United States Government can no longer ignore Japanese actions in the Far East, Secretary of Navy Frank Knox maintained today.

America has striven by every means to maintain peace in the Pacific, but further forbearance would be misunderstood, Knox declared in a nationwide broadcast. "The hour of decision is here," he said.

Recounting U. S. efforts to keep peace, Knox pointed out that "we are moved and actuated in the Pacific no less than in the Atlantic solely by consideration of self-defense." The Navy Secretary said: "Just what the morrow may hold for us in that quarter of the globe no one may say with certainty. The only thing we can be sure of is that the Pacific, no less than the Atlantic, calls for instant readiness for defense."

"In the last few years, the efforts this government has made to maintain amicable relations with the Japanese have been long-suffering and patient to a degree almost unmatched in the history of international relations."

Our Rights Violated
"We have cooperated with every liberal and peace-loving element in Japan, and we are still ready to cooperate with those elements. We have been patient, while, repeatedly, our rights have been violated."

"We have continued to permit supplies to go to Japan, although we could very well have stopped them on the just and truthful ground that we needed such supplies for our own defense."

"We have felt that in the interests of peace, we must be tolerant and take risks. But there comes a time in the life of every man, and every nation, when principles cannot be sacrificed, and when vital and essential rights can no longer be ignored; a time when to go further would mean that our liberality and forbearance would be misunderstood."

"Our people must understand that grave questions are about to be decided—that the hour of decision is here. There must be clear realization that we will not shrink or seek to evade the staggering responsibilities of these days."

Particular significance was attached to Knox's review of the American position in view of the forthcoming visit to the U. S. of Saburo Kurosu, the special Japanese envoy who is en route to Washington to carry on the talks between the U. S. and Japanese governments.

under a special rule, with Rep. Bloom (D) N. Y., chairman of the foreign affairs committee, directing the administrative floor battle.

Rep. Eaton (R) N. J., defying the majority of Republicans against the bill, planned to lead a drive for Republican votes.

"I consider the neutrality act, which I opposed from the start, largely responsible for the division and stress among the people today," he said.

"One of the most amazing delusions that ever afflicted the American people was that a law would put us in war or keep us out. I need call attention only to the prohibition amendment, which was to make the nation sober, but instead plunged it deeper into alcoholic excesses than any time in history."

"Vote Means War"
Knutson declared opposition to measure is increasing.

"More and more members say that a vote for this bill means war, and they have pledged their people not to put the country into war," he said.

Rep. Houston (D) Kan., opened a drive to persuade mid-western Democrats to support the administration, while foes of the proposal sought to make inroads among Democrats from the big cities, who usually have supported the President's foreign policy.

The armed ship bill, which the Senate amended, passed the House by a vote of 259 to 138, a margin of 121 votes. A switch of 61 members would be sufficient to reverse the result.

Memory of the passage of the draft extension bill last summer by a vote of 203 to 202—closest administration victory in the House since the European war started—haunted administration leaders. They are bending every effort to avoid a recurrence of that close vote.

Debate Opens
Washington, Nov. 12.—The House today opened debate on the momentous proposal to repeal the neutrality act ban on sending merchant ships through war zones to belligerent ports, with Speaker Sam Rayburn predicting approval by "a substantial vote."

Rayburn sought to combat non-interventionist claims that revising the neutrality act means war. He declared that war is more likely to result if the proposal is rejected.

"I think that defeat of this proposal would be more provocative of war than a vote against it," said Rayburn.

"I think the Senate amendments to the House bill will be approved by a substantial vote. When the President and others in the executive department say that this action is not only necessary for the safety of the United States, but also is necessary for its peace, I have confidence in the actions of the House."

Opponents, branding the repeal of major neutrality act provisions as putting the nation further into a shooting war, declared that the vote would be close with possibilities for a victory.

"We refuse to concede defeat—we are gaining strength," said Rep. Knutson (R) Minn., after a meeting of the non-interventionist bloc.

of street cars have been engaged in the work almost as long as the street car lines have been in existence here. Most of the street car operators will become bus operators on the bus lines, it is expected.

One week from tomorrow will be Thanksgiving Day—over in Ohio. On this side of the state line Thanksgiving Day will be two weeks from tomorrow, November 27. After the present year Thanksgiving Day will again be observed by the entire nation on the traditional last Thursday of November.

Last night's parade through the city was the best handled from the standpoint of traffic conditions that has been seen in the city for many years. The entire line of march was well policed, and the crowd was kept off the cartway of the street, giving the paraders a chance to perform to the best advantage.

Downtown the streets were roped off at the curb and city police, state police, and city firemen were on the job, and kept all spectators inside the ropes. The crowd was most orderly, and there was little effort beyond the ropes. Probably due to the long line of march the huge crowd of spectators had an excellent chance to get good vantage points somewhere along the route.

Sometime during the course of last evening, Commander Joe Messall, of Harry L. McBride Post, V. F. W. lost his purple heart medal, which is an honorary award made only to enlisted men who were wounded during the last war. The medal has his name engraved on the back, and he is hopeful that the finder will return the medal to him.

On Tuesday, Private First Class Karl Smith, an honorably discharged soldier, on his way home to New York state, called on Mr. and Mrs. David Harris, East Washington street. Smith had served with Mr. and Mrs. Harris' son, Private First Class David Harris, at Langley Field, some months ago, and was a close buddy. Smith spoke well of the hospitality of Pennsylvania to soldiers. He got several auto rides on his way here, and when going along East Washington, on the look-out for 1511, a street car operator picked him up, asked where he was going, and directed him to the house.

Seventy-two years young, Mrs. Rebecca Strong, of Neshannock avenue, who marched with the Veterans of Foreign Wars Auxiliary in the Armistice Day parade Tuesday evening, has three sons in the United States army at present. Raymond Strong is located at Milliford, Burg, Charles at Fort Meade, Md., and Harold is at Fort Bragg, N. C.

Weather conditions were quite snappy for the Armistice parade on Tuesday night, temperature being down around the freezing point and a raw wind blowing. Despite the fact that many of the spectators were somewhat chilled, they remained until the parade was finished, a tribute to the spectacular appeal of the procession.

Only the Stars and Stripes were carried in the Armistice parade here last night. Some banners designating the delegations and bands were in the line of march, but no flag of any other nation was carried.

Lots of folks might wonder why some of the splendid musical organizations in last night's parade did not win prizes. All local bands were not competing for the prize money, nor was the national championship V. F. W. band from Clarksburg, which received its expenses for coming here for the parade.

Although no parking fees were required yesterday, because of a legal holiday, a lot of motorists did not know that this was a fact, as many nickels were placed in the meters. A considerable number of local motorists who knew the situation took advantage of the condition to park their cars in the meter section all day long.

JAPAN ASSAILS STATEMENTS BY KNOX-CHURCHILL

tween the United States and Japan to protect British interests in the Far East.

The charges were made in reply to British Prime Minister Winston Churchill's speech stating Britain would declare war on Japan within an hour if America and Nippon became involved in hostilities.

"Attempt To Intimidate"
The press termed Churchill's speech an attempt to "intimidate Japan" prior to the arrival of special envoy Saburo Kurosu in Washington for last-minute peace discussions.

At the same time, Japanese quarters expressed belief the United States was behind the recent Panamanian decree closing down all Nipponese business enterprises in Panama. Japan already has lodged a strong protest with Panama.

The Japan Times Advertiser, foreign office organ, charged the Panama ban on Japanese business was "obviously not intrinsically Panamanian but dictated by another power."

The paper called the Panama decree "outrageous racial discrimination" and said that most Japanese affected by the measure are "small merchants, barbers, cooks, etc."

"These people," the editorial argued, "could scarcely be regarded as a menace to the safety of the state or to the safety of any neighboring power."

The Newspaper Asahi simultaneously branded Churchill's speech "empty intimidation" and the Yomiuri Shimbun said that Britain "through United States participation in war wants to maintain and protect her interests in the Far East."

For this reason, Yomiuri claimed, Britain is "doing everything in her power to spread the war to the Pacific."

Britain announced also that the strength of the Italian navy has been greatly reduced as a result of recent British triumphs in the Mediterranean. In London it was declared that Italy now has only five battleships and 15 cruisers.

Ben said German and Russian troops, pursuing Soviet forces in the eastern Crimea, have reached the Black Sea coast south of Kerch, on the "short cut" to the Caucasus.

The Nazis said also that in the region south of Tula, 110 miles south of Moscow, the Germans smashed Soviet cavalry divisions in an encircling attack.

Russia confirmed that a battle of ever-growing ferocity raged in the Tula section, with the Nazis hurling vast new forces into action against the southern defenses of the Soviet capital.

A Russian counter-attack, according to the Soviet army newspaper Red Star, compelled the Germans to retreat five miles.

With tension still high in the far east, Japan created a whole new ring of "defense stations" around the Japanese islands. And Japanese authorities charged that Prime Minister Churchill and Frank Knox, American secretary of the navy, are "competing with each other in making provocative statements."

Expressing conviction the British people would respond wholeheartedly to all fresh demands to aid their own and the Russian forces, the king said in his address from the throne:

"My relations with Turkey remain firmly based upon trust and friendship. . . .

Ohio Hunting Season To Open

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 12.—Another hunting season opens Sunday noon and half a million Ohioans probably will bag a record take of game before the shooting is over, officials opined today.

Conservation Commissioner Don Waters said 575,000 license already had been purchased, 41,300 more than last year, and that the opening of more public hunting lands doubtless would draw a record number of alms into the field.

More than 200,000 acres of Ohio hunting lands will be available this year, the commissioner said, including an added area in the Muskingum Conservancy District.

Approximately 70,000 pheasants have been released by the commission in 1941.

The Milan State Raccoon Farm has produced 1,900 racoon this year, the bulk of which have been released.

Try This Old Home-Mixed Cough Relief. Surprising!

Child Could Make It. No Cooking. Big Saving. You may not know it, but, in your own kitchen, and in just a moment, you can easily prepare a really surprising relief for coughs due to colds. It's old-fashioned—your mother probably used it—but for real results, it can't be beaten.

First, make a syrup by stirring 2 cups granulated sugar and one cup of water a few moments, until dissolved. No cooking needed. It's no trouble at all.

Then get 2½ ounces of Pinex from any drugstore. This is a special compound of proven ingredients, in concentrated form, well known for prompt action in throat and bronchial irritations.

Put the Pinex into a pint bottle, and add your syrup. Thus you make a full pint of really splendid cough syrup, and you get about four times as much for your money. It never spoils, and children love its pleasant taste.

And for quick relief, it's a wonder. It loosens the phlegm, soothes the irritated membranes, eases the soreness, makes breathing easy, and lets you get restful sleep. Just try it, and if not pleased, your money will be refunded.

Burns To Death As Wife's Rescue Fails

KENT, O., Nov. 12.—An 84-year-old invalid was trapped in his cottage home at near-by Brady Lake Tuesday morning and burned to death in spite of his wife's efforts to save him.

Thomas Martin, an invalid for many years, died when flames from an exploded oil heater spread in his home before neighbors, called by his 80-year-old wife, could rescue him.

Mrs. Martin first tried to transfer her husband from his bed into a wheel chair before going for aid, fire authorities said. She was treated for second-degree burns.

Franklin township firemen kept the fire under control after two unoccupied cottages adjoining the Martin home were destroyed.

Two brothers and a sister also survive.

Mrs. Ball and her daughter, Mrs. Harlan Wilson both collect dolls. Mrs. Wilson had her dolls on display during the Christmas season last year, also has had them on display on several occasions at club meetings, and tells the story of many of them, which is most interesting.

Members of the Ne-Ca-Hi Senior Girl Reserves met in the Green Room of the Y. W. C. A., with president, Helen Hazen in charge. Devotions were in charge of Agnes Baker, and Betty Wright read the minutes.

The inter-club council report was given by Shirley Cartwright. An announcement was made that the recognition service will be held at Highland U. P. church on November 23. The following girls volunteered to write the service, Pat Taylor, Ruth Porter, Emma Jean Wilkinson, Jean Rapson, Jean Young, and Marie Garlin.

The all-association dinner will be held at the Cathedral on November 18. Marian Wallace and Betty Lou Johnson will write the program for the occasion. Rehearsal for the dinner will be held on November 13, at 7:30 o'clock, in the Y. W. C. A. November 25, is the date for the next meeting.

SONG REHEARSAL

There will be a song rehearsal for the All Association dinner in the Y. W. C. A. auditorium this evening at 7:30 o'clock. This is for all club members of the "Y" to rehearse the folk and new patriotic songs to be sung at the dinner next Tuesday evening. Misses Esther and Emma Gibbons will lead the singing.

BOY SCOUTS OF NEW CASTLE

MARCH IN PARADE

Many Boy Scouts from Lawrence county took part in the Armistice Day parade on Tuesday night. Some carried flags, others aided in the line of march and others helped wherever they were needed, while a large group marched in a body.

John J. Finnessy, local scout executive, was quite pleased with the turnout by the boys and expressed his thanks in the following words:

"Lawrence County Boy Scout council desires to thank every leader and scout who had any part in making the Armistice Day parade a success. Young Americans can do just a little more than their part towards keeping the things that we have in this great country of ours. Even lack of a uniform did not keep any of you from showing that your heart was in the right place."

GRANGE NEWS

Officers elected, were: Juvenile matron, Edith Kelo; master, Woodrow Cowher; overseer, Frank Wright; lecturer, Dorothy Robison; steward, D. M. Baird; assistant steward, Bill Cox; chaplain, Merle Davis; treasurer, Vera Cox; secretary, Frank Kelo; gate keeper, Wilbur Robison; ceres, Mrs. Rowland Moore; pomona, Helen Korby; flora, Betty Baird; executive committee member, Harold Hove; finance committee member, Belle Simon; purchasing agent, William Robison; pianist, pianist, Laura Baird.

At the next meeting in two weeks, a Booster Night will be observed, and a special program has been arranged for the occasion. Mrs. E. C. Wiggins will be the guest speaker, and a social hour will follow, with refreshments being served by the social committee.

If the movie's title is "Lustful Virgins" or "Old Wine at Bedtime," it is probably the life story of a great musician.

Mrs. Margaret Biddle Is Busiest Woman In Britain

By KATHLEEN HARRIMAN
International News Service Staff
Correspondent

LONDON, Nov. 12.—If Margaret Biddle isn't the busiest woman in England today she'll be until the busiest woman comes along.

The wife of Anthony J. Drexel Biddle, Jr., former U. S. ambassador to Poland and now serving as U. S. representative to the governments-in-exile of Europe's seven conquered and occupied countries, she starts her day early and ends it late.

Mrs. Biddle, herself, makes it sound simple. She says:

"I do whatever I can to help troops and refugees from our 'seven countries'."

She has just written a book, "The Women of England," in which she has incorporated the same report on civilian defense she made to President Roosevelt a few weeks after she came to England last spring.

"It's a very simple book," she said. "And it just answers a lot of questions people are asking."

The proceeds of the book will go to the British Red Cross to be used in air raid shelter work.

"The Lady In Black"

Known throughout London as "The Lady In Black" because of her smart black dresses topped by an invariable turban, Mrs. Biddle is often seen these days wearing an American Red Cross uniform. She acts as the liaison officer between the Red Cross organizations of the allied governments.

It's a large order.

She opens canteens, presents ambulances, visits hospitals and children's homes, depots and comfort stations. Hardly a day passes without her having to officiate somewhere, in some part of England.

All this takes time—lots of time—but she gets things done. And the strongest part of all is that she never seems rushed.

Recently the first Norwegian fighting squadron of the R. A. F. was formed. Many of the pilots and their relatives are Norwegian friends of the Biddles. Mrs. Biddle is personally knitting a scarf for each pilot as a Christmas present. To date, she has finished three. She hopes to have the remainder completed before Dec. 25.

Last summer, while visiting Polish troops with her husband, she started what she called "pig clubs" by giving each company two suckling pigs.

The little pigs are now growing fat. She has been informed that great rivalry has sprung up among the different companies over which will have the plumpiest porker.

Godmother To 16,000

She is the godmother to 16,000 members of the ninth division of the French army, now prisoners of war in France. Since her arrival in England, she has been made godmother to all the Belgian ambulances.

The last honor puzzles her a bit. "I accepted the honor but I'm doubtful about just what my duties are," she smiled.

Margaret Biddle knows what is going on in England today. She knows because she likes to find out for herself just where help is needed and where it isn't.

She puts it this way:

"It's part of my job to keep in touch with all relief organizations. She knows how to go about getting things done and is probably the No. 1 cutter-of-red-tape in these parts. All sorts of people come to her with their questions and problems."

"Sometimes I wonder, she wondered, "If people think I run an information bureau?"

TRUCK SURVEY

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Nov. 12.—Truckers today were urged by the Pennsylvania Motor Truck Association to fill out questionnaires for the national truck and bus survey being conducted by the U. S. Bureau of Public Roads.

"The information is vitally needed for defense purposes," declared Edward Gogolin, General Manager of the P.M.T.A. "Furthermore, complete information on every truck and bus is absolutely necessary to assure future production of trucks and replacement parts."

As the survey progresses, it will be possible to determine the need for new trucks and buses, and to plan for their production.

As War Nears End For Finland

This Central Press map shows how Finland's threatened withdrawal from the war against Russia may imperil the German's northern wing before Leningrad. If the Finns cease fighting the Russians probably will be able to reopen the strategic, vital railway line from Leningrad to Murmansk. The thin boundary line shows Finland's eastern frontier before the war of 1939-1940. The heavy line is frontier fixed by the peace pact which followed. The shaded area shows territory won by Finnish arms in the current war.

'Proud To Parade,' Mother Of Local Army Boys Declares

The mother of two New Castle soldiers, now in camp, braved the cold last night to march in the Armistice parade — and she was mighty "proud to do so."

Her patriotism high, Mrs. William Ayers, of West Washington street, stepped along with the marchers from start to finish.

"My two boys," said Mrs. Ayers, "are in training in Uncle Sam's armed forces. The least I can do, here at home in safety, is to march tonight."

Her sons are William, now 25, recently transferred from Fort Meade, Md., to Fort Bragg, N. C., where maneuvers are planned; and John, 22, who is at Fort Meade. William is with the new tank destroyer battalion.

Services in the armed forces runs in the Ayers family, for Mrs. Ayers' brother, James Colvert, at Quantico, Va., will soon have completed 16 years in the service. One nephew, Charles Covert, formerly of New Castle, and now of Chester, W. Va., is at Camp Walters, Tex., and another, James L. Gordon, of 1024 Glenn avenue, is "somewhere at sea" on the U. S. S. North Carolina.

Dispute Ends After 17 Days

(International News Service)
DETROIT, Nov. 12.—For the first time in 37 days, railway express agency shipments moved in Detroit Tuesday after President Roosevelt intervened to end a jurisdictional dispute within the A. F. of L. which crippled normal shipments.

Some 130 striking teamsters who have been involved in a dispute with the Brotherhood of Railway Clerks for bargaining rights with the agency returned to work as a three man arbitration board appointed by the president began a study of the dispute. The committee will report to the president within 30 days.

The return to work came after the president requested Daniel J. Tobin, chief of the teamsters union, to have the men back at work within 48 hours. The express agency announced yesterday that shipments were being accepted for the first time since the dispute began.

During the course of the dispute, there were sporadic outbursts in which 15 union men were injured.

Christmas Cards Under British Ban

LONDON, Wednesday, Nov. 12.—Christmas cards fell victim to the war today when the ministry of supply announced they were banned as part of drastic new restrictions on the use of paper "required for munitions and other essential purposes."

New regulations call for sharp reductions in the output of calendars and programs and elimination of certain directories and all local guide books. Shopkeepers may not use paper to wrap goods except food and articles for delivery. Posters advertising motion pictures were ordered cut in half.

The board of trade also prohibited the opening of any new stores in Britain after January 1 except food stores.

Heavy Snowfall At Ashtabula, O.

ASHTABULA, O., Nov. 12.—The city's snow plow was kept busy Tuesday clearing the streets of the season's first heavy fall.

A steady precipitation which began shortly before midnight blanketed lawns and shrubbery under two inches of white, and it was 10 a. m. before the city plow and two trucks cleared the downtown district.

FISH LIKE FRIED CHICKEN

(International News Service)
BROWNSVILLE, Tex. — It may seem like sacrilege to fried-chicken lovers, but Earl Hunter and Ronald Sutherland of Brownsville have learned that the southland's favorite Sunday dinner is appetizing to fish as well. Hunter and Sutherland were anchored 22 miles offshore and wanted to fish for red snapper. But they didn't have any bait. One of them thought of the contents of their lunch boxes. Pieces of fried chicken proved to be exactly what the snapper liked.

Sergeant York Would Declare War On Hitler

Urges Immediate Declaration Of War In Address At Evansville, Indiana

(International News Service)
EVANSVILLE, Ind., Nov. 12.—An immediate American declaration of war against Germany was advocated Tuesday by Sgt. Alvin C. York, one of America's greatest heroes in the first World War, speaking at an Armistice Day program in Evansville.

"Our job today is to defeat Hitler — and defeat him now," declared York. "Yes, this very minute is the time to declare war on Hitler for he is not ready for us. The fate of the countries that fell before the Hitler machine came to them because each waited in turn for someone else to defeat the Nazis, and then had to fight them alone."

The famous sergeant called for the maximum American aid for Russia, branded Senators Wheeler and Nye and Charles A. Lindbergh as "appeasers," and charged that America today "is neither prepared nor alert," but "smug and self-satisfied."

"I am against communism as much as any man in this country, but I say that we must do everything in our power to help Russia so long as they continue their magnificent battle against Hitler," he said.

"But, I repeat that if we want the job really well done, we ought to go over and do it ourselves."

"Charles Lindbergh, Senator Wheeler, Senator Nye and every other leader in the America First movement is an appeaser of Adolf Hitler. That is not an accusation. It is a simple statement of fact."

"Believe me when I tell you that I have only one outstanding complaint against a foreign policy of appeasement—it won't work."

Warning Americans not to take too much encouragement from Russia's stand against the German invasion, Sergeant York declared:

"Let us not suppose that since Hitler is stopped for the moment that he is licked. Now is the time to beat him down. Now is the time to pour in every available weapon that we possess, and crush the monster until he and his wretched system are both dead."

Rift With Japan Makes Lilies Scarce

Japanese Exported Most Of Lily Bulbs Used In The United States

By FRANK NEIL
International News Service Staff
Correspondent

NEW ORLEANS.—Your American church stands a good chance of being bare of lilies for Easter services weddings and other ceremonies during the next few years—all because of war shadows over the Far East and the freezing of Japanese credits by the United States.

For several decades Japan has supplied this country with about 27,000,000 lily bulbs each year, or about 97 per cent of the total supply.

But when Uncle Sam closed his door to the Land of the Rising Sun he opened another portal to folks right in his own front yard. As a result, lily-growers in two remote sections of the nation have the chance of a lifetime.

Farmers Joyful

Lily farmers in Iowa-Mississippi River area of Louisiana and plant experts in the northeast section of Oregon and Washington are singing jubilant tunes today above the solemn dirge of beating war drums. For now, as never before, these two sections—only areas where lilies will grow abundantly in America—are in competition for a million dollar market.

Cross-State Runners Reach Goal Tuesday

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 12.—A tape stretched across Chestnut street in front of Independence Hall was broken by a speeding young athlete at 10:55 a. m. Tuesday, ending a 567-mile cross-country relay symbolizing the importance of physical fitness.

The young runner, Bob Field of Philadelphia, delivered to a representative of President Roosevelt and Mayor Bernard Samuel a pledge of allegiance to the United States which has been carried across Pennsylvania by 1,000 school boys.

The run began 11 days ago on the deck of Commodore Peary's 1813 flagship Niagara at Erie.

SAYS CHARACTER IS NOT REFLECTED IN HANDWRITING

(International News Service)
INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Nov. 12.—Contrary to popular belief, character is not reflected in handwriting, according to Albert D. Osborn, New York, handwriting expert.

Speaking before a convention of attorneys in Indianapolis, Osborn asserted that "the more one studies, the less he believes in graphology—the telling of character from handwriting."

"A simple test which we have is that of specimens of writing of ministers and of twenty Sing Sing graduates," the New York expert said.

"When these forty papers are handed to a graphologist and he is asked to put the ministers in one group and the former convicts in another, the graphologist always seems to insist on putting most of the convicts in the pulpits and the ministers in jail."

Boy Is Killed By Wild Shot

INDIANAPOLIS, Pa., Nov. 12.—Robert Devore, 8, was killed instantly Tuesday in his home at Tunnelton, in Indiana county, by a shotgun blast which his brother William, 10, aimed at a china duck sitting on the family radio.

The boys' father, Eugene Devore, told Dr. Edward L. Fleming, coroner, that he had removed the shells from the gun Monday after his return from a hunting trip and had set the gun in a corner of the livingroom. The parents told Dr. Fleming that Robert was standing near the radio when William picked up the gun saying: "Watch me hit that duck on the radio."

When he pulled the trigger the charge struck his brother in the abdomen.

Tragic Story Starting At Park In New York To Have Happy Ending

(International News Service)
PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 12.—That tragic little story about 18-year-old Josephine Phillips which began on a bench in Central Park, New York, is going to have a happy ending—right here in Philadelphia.

That's the latest development today in the Prince Charming romance which brought together the pretty Passaic, N. J., Miss and Bill—Bill Langford, 22, a native of Victoria, Tex., and quartermaster, second class, in Uncle Sam's navy.

You may remember how they met several weeks ago. Josephine, with $10, had come to New York for a job she didn't find. She fell in love with a man, but learned he was married. She tried suicide. Then, tired, disheartened, hungry and broke, she slumped on the bench and Bill came along.

"Hello," he said.

Josephine didn't answer.

"You look hungry... like a starved kitten I once found." Then, after a pause, "I'll buy you a dinner."

Later, Bill offered her money for a room, but she wouldn't take that. They walked the streets all night, window-shopping on Fifth avenue. "I'd pick out things I'd buy for Bill," she said. "Then he'd pick out things he'd buy for me. We had a wonderful time."

Bill left at dawn, promising to meet her that night, but he didn't.

Murder Ring Witness Dies In Hotel Leap

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—Abe (Kid Twist) Reles, who murdered for profit and sought to profit with his own life by tossing his pals into the electric chair, plunged to his death today from a sixth floor window of a Coney Island hotel.

It was listed formally on the police blotter as "fell or jumped."

Authorities were convinced he jumped. Reles had been removed by detectives for safe keeping to the hotel recently, after word had leaked out on his previous abode.

Reles, a state witness during the prosecution of the crime syndicate labeled "Murder, Inc.," had boasted of 12 killings—eight by his own hand. His boasts came on the witness stand where he faced one-time brothers in murder and named them one by one as active directors of the corporation of death.

Eighty-seven killings were ascribed by Reles to the murder ring. Harry (Pittsburgh Phil) Straus and Martin (Bugsy) Goldstein went to the death chair mainly on Reles' testimony. Harry (Happy) Malone and Frank (The Dasher) Abando are under sentence to die the same way.

Immediately after Reles' crushed body was found on the street below his hotel window, a police department investigation was ordered to determine whether negligence of his police guards was responsible for Reles eluding them long enough to plunge through the window.

Defense Calls For Response To Red Cross

All Out Support Is Urged By
W. W. Duff, Defense Committee Chairman

WORK DOUBLED IN ARMY CAMPS

America's National Defense efforts require a greater expansion of all American Red Cross activities, W. W. Duff, chairman, Lawrence County Chapter Defense committee, declared today in urging "All Out Support of the Greatest Membership Roll Call in Red Cross History."

The quota for this year's Roll Call is one big question mark, for there is no one who can ascertain at this date what the needs of the Red Cross may be. With an "All Out Roll Call" it means every adult a member of the Red Cross and a complete program for the future.

The Red Cross has more than doubled the number of field directors and medical workers in its employment. As the only lay organization permitted to function within the Army and Navy posts, these men are the contact of the American people with their boys in service. Red Cross staffs are at 185 hospitals and stations, covering 900 points of military and naval service. Approximately 200 field directors are dealing with the able-bodied personnel of the Army and Navy, while another 140 workers are assigned to Army and Navy hospitals rendering medical social service and communication service for convalescent patients.

The Red Cross is completely furnishing and operating hospital recreation buildings constructed in 65 army stations and general hospitals. These buildings will provide recreational service for convalescent patients. Current popular motion picture, stage presentations, and other entertainments will be made available to the boys.

It is essential for the complete functioning of this vital program that the Home Service Department of the Lawrence County Chapter act with the field directors in the camps and hospitals to form the liaison between the military and civilian populations. The Lawrence County Chapter must be prepared to bear its share of the load, and the only way is by having a whole-hearted support of the entire community during Roll Call.

Call Off Strike On U. S. Projects

(International News Service)
SAN DIEGO, Nov. 12.—Approximately 3,000 A.F.L. building tradesmen were to return to work today on some $30,000,000 worth of naval and marine expansion and defense projects, ending a short strike which the United States navy termed an "open revolt."

Settlement of the strike for higher wages came after a series of meetings between San Diego building trade leaders, Federal Labor Conciliator Harry Malcolm and navy officers from the 11th naval district. The navy had completed plans to "take over" the projects if the walk-out had continued.

Union officials said the strikers would return to their jobs at noon.

BULLDOG ON "BENDER"
(International News Service)
CHARLESTOWN, Ind.—The pet bulldog of Mrs. Allen Barnett, of Charlestown, has become a topic of much gossip because nearly every day he comes home staggering and with a 12-inch breath. She has appealed to a humane officer to discover who has been buying the drinks for the canine. She fears that he will be struck by an automobile during one of his "benders."

WENT RIGHT TO JAIL
(International News Service)
DALLAS, Tex.—A 38-year-old Negro, haled into corporation court by a warrant officer when he failed to appear on a traffic charge, protested that he had complied with the law to the best of his ability. "I went to court—went right to the county jail, but I couldn't find anybody that knew me," the Negro told Judge Paul McCarroll. Judge McCarroll waived the penalty for not appearing for trial and told the Negro to come back again—but this time to the courtroom, and not directly to jail.

BANDITS OPERATE STATION

(International News Service)
MOBILE, Ala.—Three disappointed bandits who put in an "honest" night's work at a service station were chased out of Alabama for their efforts. Not satisfied with the loot already on hand at a Mobile filling station, the three locked up the attendant and went into business. They serviced the customers and made the attendant make change for the sales. Then, with the added "take," and $25 already on hand, the bandits drove off. Alabama patrolmen pursued them to the Mississippi border.

Unity Paramount, Judge Tells Lions

'We're Looking Down Gun Barrel', Braham Says In Armistice Talk

America must remain united and brave and strong, and "we as Americans" must put faith in our leaders in this crucial hour, Judge W. Braham told the Lions club in a ringing Armistice Day message in The Castleton yesterday.

"A land," said he, "does not long remain the home of the free after it has ceased to be the home of the brave."

"We are now looking down the gun barrel, and from the wrong end," the judge declared, adding that not one among us knows where or where conflict may break.

Judge Braham spoke of the "differences among us" and warned they must be submerged if the cause of unity is to be upheld. And he stressed that unity and confidence in our President—our commander-in-chief—is paramount and that domestic and partisan issues can wait.

The speaker saluted the men of 23 and 24 years ago who fought to save democracy then—and who fought valiantly and bravely, and then turned the peace over to "the old men" who jealously fought to win all they could.

A disunited nation, Judge Braham told his audience, "may find the tyrant of Europe at our shores" and he warned time and again that only national unity and national confidence in the President and other elected leaders will insure our safety.

Attorney William D. Coburn introduced Judge Braham. Harding H. Thayer, club president, acted as chairman of the program.

Youth Is Veteran At Twenty-One

War-Scarred Stripling Wishes To Continue Fighting Against Nazis

(International News Service)

MEMPHIS, Tenn.—Private Geoffrey Maginot, 21-year-old veteran of the present European war who has had two ships sunk under him by the Germans and has been wounded innumerable times, was forced to resort to individual ways to fight Nazism.

The diminutive Polish veteran, whose real name is Gershon Unij, has been discharged from the United States Army after only four months of service because medical officers at Camp Roberts, Cal., said the wounds the young adventurer had suffered during the battle of France made him unfit for service.

"But, I'm not unfit for service," protested the war-scarred youngster. "I want to help Britain and Russia and all the conquered countries. I know of only two ways to do this since the Army won't have me. One is serving with the Federal Bureau of Investigation. The other is the merchant marine."

Because he speaks nine languages, most of them better than English, Maginot believes that he will be an asset in the counter-spy system of the FBI. Failing, he said, "maybe I can get another crack at the Germans on the sea."

Police immediately contemplated dragging the river.

Taxi-Driver Is Confessed Slayer Of Michigan Girl

Winifred Smith, 35, Confesses To Attack And Clubbing To Death Of Young Girl

(International News Service)

SAGINAW, Mich., Nov. 12.—After a noisy, threatening crowd of approximately 500 persons was persuaded to leave the doors of Saginaw county jail, authorities moved rapidly today for a prosecution of Winifred Smith, 35-year-old taxi driver who police said confessed he attacked and clubbed 20-year-old Wanda May Wheatley to death.

The crowd gathered at the jail shortly after midnight and did not disperse until informed by jail officials that Smith was held elsewhere.

Smith, the father of a month-old daughter, was whisked under cover of night to the jail in Flint shortly after Sheriff Hugo Muehlenbeck announced the confession. The sheriff said he will press first degree murder charges with the completion of a formal statement.

Smith's urge to look once more at the slain girl the night after she met her death eight days ago in a wooded "lover's lane" near here apparently resulted in the clue that "broke" the case. He said he removed a watch from the wrist of the dead girl that night and pawned it.

Superior Force Alone Will Save U. S. Says Leader

(International News Service)

CAMDEN, N. J., Nov. 12.—The nation was warned Tuesday that force and superior force alone will save the United States in the present crisis.

The warning was given by Lieut. Gen. Hugh A. Drum in an Armistice Day address to his first army command on maneuvers in the Carolina war games.

Advising them they must be prepared to fight whenever or wherever the nation is in danger, Gen.

Drum praised the individual soldier and assured him his role is a vital one in the country's determination to preserve its liberty.

"The duty of defending the nation against all enemies is a duty for each and every one of us," declared the man who 23 years ago sent the cease-firing order to the victorious first army of the American expeditionary force in the Meuse-Argonne battle of World War I.

"Every effort you and our fellows make," the first army's commanding officer said to the man in khaki, "supports the president of our nation when he speaks to those who would trample our freedom. Your efforts and the efforts of our fellows back up the words of our president when he deals with those who understand force and force alone."

Finland Turns Down Peace Appeal Of United States

Rejects Plea For End Of Warfare

Reply Indicates Finland To Continue To Battle Against Russia

NOTE IS HANDED TO U. S. MINISTER

(International News Service)
HELSINKI, Nov. 12.—The Finnish government today flatly turned down an American appeal for a separate Russo-Finnish peace, refused to cease military operations and declared it would continue the war against the Soviets until the security of Finland is assured.

The Finnish reply was contained in a note handed to American Minister, H. F. Arthur Schoenfeld, by Finnish Foreign Minister Wifling last night and published today.

"Finland will terminate the war with Russia when the danger to Finland's existence is terminated and guarantees for Finland's permanent security are created," the reply said.

"The Finnish government could not undertake obligations which would endanger the interests of the nation by artificial cessation of hostilities."

"It cannot be possible that the great American democracy should ask a small nation, attacked by a neighbor 50 times larger and fighting for its existence to withdraw and await a new attack from indefensible borders."

Finland cannot understand that the security of the United States is menaced by Finnish occupation of districts from which Finland always has been menaced.

"The United States must understand that a small nation has the right to live and defend itself. The Finnish people will continue the war only until their security and freedom to work are assured."

In its memorandum of Oct. 27, the American government presumes that Finland's liberty of action and independence is menaced by Germany. Finland has no cause to presume such a danger.

"Finland, which is an old democracy, is attending to its own affairs."

Rail Strike To Be Averted Morse Believes

Chairman Of Federal Railroad Fact Finding Board Expresses Belief

(International News Service)

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 12.—Belief that the threatened nationwide strike December 5 of the railroad brotherhoods will be averted was expressed unofficially Tuesday by Dean Wayne L. Morse, chairman of the federal railroad fact finding board.

At the same time Dean Morse, head of the University of Oregon law school, staunchly defended the board's report to President Roosevelt which recommended 7½ per cent wage increases for the "big five" operating brotherhoods and 13½ per cent boosts for members of non-operating unions. The recommendations were rejected by the unions, which asked 30 per cent and 30 cents an hour increases, respectively.

"The emergency board is strongly convinced that a railroad strike cannot be justified on the basis of the record which the parties themselves made before the board," Dean Morse said.

"I am confident the leaders of railroad labor are too loyal to the trust they owe their men and too familiar with the facts developed before the president's emergency board to make the grievous mistake of leading their men into an unjustifiable strike, such as a railroad strike would be at this time."

"It is quite possible some adjustments of differences over the decision can be made by renewed negotiations between the carriers and the brotherhoods. However, any such adjustments, if and when made, should not be made on the basis of the employees placing a 'strike-gun' to the government's head."

A strike, he maintained, would wreck the procedures established in the railway labor act, and thereby also deprive railway workers of the act's benefits.

Prisoner Has First Visitors In Over 31 Years

(International News Service)

JACKSON, Mich., Nov. 12.—These 31 years, Elton Baldwin has been watching the lonely hours pass in Southern Michigan prison, and never was there a visitor to cheer the drab days which tumbled endlessly one upon another.

Today, as Baldwin sat in his cell he appeared to be more cheerful and there was a firmer ring in his voice. For he hadn't been forgotten after all.

Until yesterday, in all the 31 years he had been in prison—he was sentenced for life—he had never had a visitor, nor even a letter.

While he was about his prison duties yesterday, the call "No. 8923" went out over the loudspeaker system. So Baldwin walked to the hall office and was told he had visitors.

"There must be some mistake," Baldwin told the guards.

But there was no mistake. Two old men walked into the visiting room. They were old friends and neighbors of Baldwin, men who used to know him when he lived in Allegan County back in 1909.

What was said among the three was not recorded, but life, such as it is for him, had a new meaning today for Elton Baldwin.

Two Negro men were killed. A white boy about 11 years old was believed dying and was taken to a hospital. A woman, identified as Mrs. W. E. Forrester was injured critically.

The parade was stopped when the crash occurred.

At least 50 persons were said to have been on or under the awning.

DIONNES WILL GET NEW HOME

CALLANDER, Ont., Nov. 12.—Construction on a new home for the Dionne quintuplets, their seven brothers and sisters and their parents will begin in the spring and the house will be ready for occupancy next summer, it was announced today.

The seven-and-a-half-year-old quintuplets will continue to live in their nursery until the new house is completed. The parents now have control of the five celebrated girls, but the old Dionne home is not large enough for a family of 14.

The new home will be across the road from the old homestead and once the quintuplets move into it, their nursery probably will be converted into a school for them.

Meantime, the quintuplets' routine will be unchanged except they will see more of their parents and play often with their brothers and sisters.

Report Several Killed In Blast

Explosion At Powder Plant Near Peoria, Ill., Takes Some Lives Today

(International News Service) PEORIA, Ill., Nov. 12.—Several persons were reported killed in an explosion that rocked the Western Powder company plant today at Edwards, Ill.

The Peoria county coroner's office quoted an unnamed official of the plant as saying "at least two or three persons were killed and several are missing" in the explosion.

The plant, it was said, normally employs 50 workers, but some of the employees were not working when the explosion occurred.

The blast was felt in Peoria and communities within a wide radius of the village of Edwards.

County police hurried to the scene, but it was reported they were met at the plant entrance by a federal officer who said the plant was under federal supervision and barred their entrance.

The plant had been manufacturing only blasting powder, but may now be engaged in defense production, police said.

There was no information available just after the explosion as to what damage was done to the plant but it was pointed out that such factories comprise a large number of small buildings so that such an explosion is likely to inflict damage only in a comparatively small area of the plant.

Democrats Buck War Zone Repeal

Some Defections In Administration Attempt To Lift War Zone Ban

CURB DEMANDED ON LABOR RACKETEERS

By WILLIAM S. NEAL
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—Open revolt against the administration proposal to lift the neutrality act ban on ships entering war zones, broke out in the House today as Rep. Smith (D) Va., and Martin Kennedy (D) N. Y., denounced the move as a vote for war.

The Democratic members were applauded by non-interventionists who refused to admit defeat despite Speaker Sam Rayburn's prediction of victory by a substantial majority. Smith, who said he had supported every defense measure and every foreign policy venture thus far, declared that he would not plunge the nation into war while President Roosevelt fails to curb labor racketeers.

As House debate opened, with a vote slated for tomorrow, both Speaker Rayburn and Rep. Sol Bloom (D) N. Y., chairman of the foreign affairs committee, opposed the argument of non-interventionists that a vote to repeal combat zone provisions is tantamount to war.

"Already at War"
But Rep. E. E. Cox (D) Ga., administration supporter, told the House that "we are already in the war and every member knows it."

The defection of Smith was a blow to the administration. Kennedy has opposed other administration foreign policy proposals.

"I voted for arming of ships when this bill was in the House, but it comes back from the Senate with amendments which are, in effect, a declaration of war," Smith declared.

"If we send these merchant vessels into war zones the necessary implication is that we will protect them with our navy. It means an undeclared naval war."

"I have reluctantly reached the parting of the ways. I can take no steps further to war."

Kennedy asserted that "if we send ships in the war zone it certainly means war."

Cox answered members by his bluntness, declaring: "You must confess that the situation has changed since we first passed the neutrality law. We are in the conflict."

CALLS VENEZUELA'S NEW PRESIDENT A 'GOOD DEMOCRAT'

(International News Service)
NEW ORLEANS.—Venezuela's new 42-year-old president is not a Fascist or a Nazi, as some foes have asserted, but is a "good Democrat" friendly and well disposed toward the United States.

That is what General Ernesto Velasco Ibarra of Venezuela declared in New Orleans while visiting his son, Consul General Jose R. Velasco.

The general smiled broadly when questioned about Nazi attempts to obtain air and other military bases in his country.

"Not true, not true," he said. "On a six-months leave, during which time he will visit a number of United States army camps, General Ibarra said that 'Venezuela is giving the greatest possible cooperation to the United States.'"

PIAA Heads To Limit Schedule

Schoolboy Moguls May Confine Schedules To No More Than 10 Tilts

NORRISTOWN, Pa., Nov. 12.—Schoolboy athletic officials studied a recommendation of their governing body that football schedules be limited to a maximum of 10 games a season, preceded by at least three weeks of practice before the opener.

The stand was adopted at the annual fall meeting of the board of control of the Pennsylvania Interscholastic Athletic association. This non-compulsory attitude leaves it up to the individual schools, Secretary Edmund Wicht said.

To include it in the association's constitution and therefore make it mandatory would entail an amendment approved by a majority of the school members.

The recommendation grew out of this fall's infantile paralysis epidemic which caused cancellation of many scheduled first games. Under it, play would not start before the second week-end in September, rather than the first because of the time limit involved between the starting practice deadline.

Declare Miners In Quarrel With U. S. Government

By ROBERT HUMPHREYS
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—The White House today resolved the coal dispute into an outright "quarrel" between the United Mine Workers and the United States Government.

Thus laying a legal predicate on which President Roosevelt can invoke drastic constitutional powers to keep the mines open if he chooses.

The words were uttered by William D. Hassett, one of Mr. Roosevelt's secretaries, at a press conference this morning, as Washington officials generally viewed the coal situation the most critical which the government has faced since the "sitdown" strikes in 1937.

In those riotous days, Mr. Roosevelt kept the government aloof, but the White House pronouncement today completely reverses that famous "hands-off" policy and makes the threatened coal strike a matter between the miners and their government.

In some quarters Hassett's statement was taken as putting the issue directly up to John L. Lewis, the bushy-browed C. I. O. leader, who on Friday will meet with the mine workers' policy committee to decide if they want to call a strike in mines owned by the major steel companies.

Hassett made it plain that the White House regards the situation as "no showdown" between Mr. Roosevelt and Lewis, but an issue between a union and the government. Thus if a strike is called, it conceivably could be interpreted as insurrection, and the President has complete power under the constitution to put down insurrection.

Miles Apart On Issues
Whether Mr. Roosevelt would or will need to invoke such drastic authority is the question in Washington. Lewis sits at his desk at the United Mine Workers headquarters only three blocks distance from the White House where Mr. Roosevelt sits at his—but they are miles apart on this issue.

Lewis is demanding a "union shop" contract for his mine workers, but the defense mediation board in a unique decision, has ruled that while the union is entitled to such a contract it should not be put into operation by the government, but should be arrived at by voluntary negotiation. Because the C. I. O. contends that the Wagner act and other New Deal labor laws put the government squarely behind unionization of industry, two of its leaders, Philip Murray and Thomas Kennedy have resigned their mediation board seats in protest against this new decision.

Some Washington officials picture Mr. Roosevelt and Lewis in an almost inextricable position. Mr. Roosevelt, they say, has the power of his office and public opinion behind him, but even if he called out troops to take over the mines, coal cannot be mined without him. Lewis, it is pointed out, has the say as to whether the miners will mine.

NEW TAX IDEA Now Considered

"Personal Excess Profits" Levy Is Suggested At Washington

PAY INCREASES MAY BE TARGET

By GRIFFING BANCROFT
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—Congressional tax experts today began consideration of a possible "personal excess profits" levy designed to place steep imposts on all incomes above normal.

This method of taxation is now used on corporate incomes, with excess profits steeply taxed. The present plan contemplates using the same idea on all personal incomes, including wages.

Thus, if a wage earner or salaried man received an increase in pay, that increase would be subject to a high-percentage tax.

Compromise Plan
The idea has been privately revived as a possible basis for a compromise in the current treasury request for big withholding taxes on all incomes, which the House Ways and Means committee refused to consider for the time being.

Advocates of the idea point to a message to Congress from President Roosevelt on July 1, 1940, in which the Chief Executive recommended "a steeply graduated excess profits tax, to be applied to all individuals and all corporate organizations without discrimination."

Although the matter is still in a preliminary study stage, supporters of broadening the excess profits tax system to include individuals income, pointed out that such a tax might go a long way toward eliminating some of the excess purchasing power in the country today.

Not Considered At Length
"I don't know how much revenue such a tax would produce, but it might be anti-inflationary, and that is one of the things the treasury is interested in," Sen. George (D) Ga., chairman of the Senate finance committee, declared.

George said, however, that he had not yet given the matter sufficient study to judge its feasibility. In spite of a formal request from President Roosevelt for the House Ways and Means committee to start immediate work on a new tax bill, George and others predicted that nothing will be done before Christmas.

The House committee has given notice that it will not consider tax legislation until the pending price control bill—the other arm in anti-inflation moves—is passed.

RETURNS HOME AFTER ABSENCE OF 62 YEARS
(International News Service)
IRONDALE, O., Nov. 12.—Sixty-two years away from home were a little too much for William McIntosh, so he's come back to stay.

It was in October of 1879 that Will left home for the Smith School House in Brush Township. He never returned. A few letters arrived from time to time, but since 1891—50 years—he has been considered dead.

But Will, now 86, came home the other day and says most likely he will stay. He found his sister, Hannah, still living on the old family farm with a brother, Sam. Other members of the family are Mrs. Brade Murphy and Homer Downard of Canton, and Mervin McIntosh of Kensington.

On, Yes! During those 62 lost years Will visited 22 states, worked at as many more trades and panned gold.

BUSY COURT DAY
(International News Service)
DALLAS, Tex.—Dallas corporation court "hit the jackpot" recently when almost 1,000 case were heard in one day, and more than 800 fines, ranging from $1 to $50, were assessed. Court attaches believed it established an all-time record. A police traffic safety campaign was believed to be one of the contributing factors, and the usual summer heat wave which brings an increase in drunkenness and crimes of violence, was another.

Consider Proposal To Abandon Tammany Hall

By WALTER KIERNAN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—The name of an old Indian chief who never voted the Democratic ticket in his life is being bandied about today in Manhattan. Tammany is on the war path again but this time it is civil war and the patched old wigwag is shaken with the thunder of the opposing forces.

Having dropped another mayoralty election the Democratic party is split on two propositions—the first to unseat Christopher Sullivan as grand sachem of Tammany; the second, and most astounding, to abolish Tammany, retire the old hall to oblivion and forget about it as quickly as possible.

In all its 152 years Tammany, maker and unmaker of presidents, legislators, and political bosses never has faced such a situation.

Call For Reform Frequent
There have been calls—frequently of late—for reform but never for abolishment or banishment and the call today comes not from Republicans or professional reformers but from members of goodstanding in Tammany hall!

Should it limp, battered and bleeding, from the political scene, Tammany will leave a niche it has occupied since before the founding of the Republic.

The Sons of St. Tammany was organized in pre-Revolutionary days to offset the Loyalist or Tory St. George, St. Andrew and St. David societies. Tammany was no saint at all. He was Tammanend, a liberty-loving Indian chief, and the saint was tacked on by way of subtle irony.

Founded In 1789
The Sons of St. Tammany grew into the Society of St. Tammany with William Mooney, a Manhattan upholsterer, as its founder on May 12, 1789, and for 10 years it was non-partisan. Then it swung to the support of Thomas Jefferson in the Republican party and when the Republican party became the Democratic party, Tammany went with it.

Tammany hall was set up as an auxiliary organization in 1805 when the Society of St. Tammany was chartered as a benevolent and charitable organization and although in theory the hall was in politics and the society was not, whoever controlled one controlled the other.

Down through the years the old hall continued to be a potent factor in national, state and city politics, reeling occasionally under a "Boss" Tweed scandal, a Seabury investigation, but suavely recouping each loss.

This time it's different for this time Tammany's war is civil and the object of the revolutionists is death to the hall and oblivion for its checkered history.

New President To Be Selected

Slippery Rock Teachers College Board Begins Hunt For New President

SLIPPERY ROCK, Nov. 12.—Preliminary consideration to the question of choosing a successor to Dr. Dale McMaster as president of Slippery Rock State Teachers college is expected to take place Saturday.

A special meeting of the trustees of the college has been called for 11 a. m. by Dr. Clyde C. Green, board chairman.

Dr. McMaster was found dead November 4 in the study of his home with a bullet wound in his head. Coroner J. Charles Dengler gave a verdict of "probable suicide." The educator had served as head of the school 15 months, after being selected from a field of 27 candidates.

Dr. John A. Entz, dean of men, was appointed acting president. As provided by law, it now becomes the duty of the board of trustees to select a candidate for the presidency, then submit the name for approval to the governor through the superintendent of public instruction.

Some members of the board, it was learned today, are giving attention to a tentative list of prerequisite qualifications which they feel should govern in the choice of a successor to the office of president in the light of their knowledge of the institution and its present needs.

These tentative requirements are as follows:
"Age—Not over 50, preferably younger.
"An earned Ph. D. degree.
"Sound physical health as indicated by a detailed report of a thorough physical examination administered by a physician approved by the board.
"Satisfactory administrative experience in the field of education.
"Evidence of fundamental social ability of the president and his wife.
"Evidence of a sound moral and religious philosophy and practice.
"Freedom from political entanglements of any brand.
"Sound educational philosophy, reasonably progressive but not radical.
"Not necessarily an orator of distinction, but a pleasing and effective public speaker; should be sufficiently able as a public speaker to be in demand for commencements and other public occasions.
"Both the president and his wife should have personalities which attract people rather than repel them.
"A sound and practical knowledge of the fundamentals of finance and evidence of satisfactory ability in the management of his personal business affairs.
"Preferably a resident of Pennsylvania."

Parolee Confesses He Struck Lima Wife Found Slain

LIMA, O., Nov. 12.—Lima and Allan County officials were waiting to investigate "a few more angles" before filing formal charges against a 28-year-old Mansfield Reformatory parolee who, they said, had admitted that he struck his wife, Siler, 46, a few hours before her nearly-nude body was found last Thursday morning on the ground of the Lima State Hospital for the Criminal Insane, where she had been an attendant the last 15 years.

Held on an open charge since a few hours after the body was found after he was arrested in the tank plant of the Lima Locomotive Works, where he was employed, broke down this morning and admitted that he had struck the woman with his fist and knocked her down, authorities asserted. He said the incident occurred after they had alighted from the taxicab which took them to the hospital grounds from a Lima night club about 1:30 a. m. Thursday.

Although questioned for nearly 12 hours without a letup by Lima Police Chief James Goodwin, the prisoner said he did not remember about strangling the woman with her own silk stocking after striking her.

The man held is the last person known to have been seen with Mrs. Siler while she was still alive. She had gone to the night club with her husband, who left about midnight, his wife saying she would come home later in a taxicab.

"Until we investigate several more angles, we are not sure what charges will be placed against him," Allan County Prosecutor Paul T. Landis said tonight. "We think we have the right man and we know the motive for the attack which led to the woman's death."

BRITISH NOW USE SOAP AT WATER TO TREAT BURNS
(International News Service)
NEW ORLEANS.—The urgent need of keeping fallen British pilots flying in defense of the isles, has resulted in the use of severe burns, Sir Harold Gilles, chief plastic surgeon of the British army, related recently in New Orleans.

After Dunkirk, Sir Harold said, the conservative method of clean soap and water replaced the former treatment.

"To save our neck," he asserted, "we must put those flyers who have been shot down and burned back in the sky. They are all that stands between England and disaster."

Sir Harold condemned the tannic acid treatment, which calls for a general anesthesia and a thorough scrubbing of the burned area, because it "masks the infection."

The present treatment consists of washing serious burns with just clean soap and water, keeping the patient warm and treating by plaster injections, followed by sprinkling of sulfanilamide powder and immersion of the victim in a saline bath.

Sir Harold, who also served in the original World War, added: "The opportunity for advancement of plastic surgery is ample. This is a burn war, the last was a bullet war."

Warren To Send Big Team Here

Ohioids Would Like To Snap New Castle's Excellent Winning Streak

Warren Band Of 120 Pieces Will Perform At 2 O'Clock; Kickoff At 2:30

WARREN Harding High will invade Taggart stadium on Saturday afternoon with one of the most powerful eleven teams that they have had since 1938 when the Ohioans posted a 13 to 0 defeat on the New Castle High "Red Hurricanes". This will be the final game on the local card, ten games have been won without a blemish.

The game Saturday will be the second daylight game on the 1941 card, the other being at McKeesport. There is intense activity in both the New Castle and Warren camps this week. Both teams realize the tussle that awaits them.

Will Send Big Band
The Warren high officials will send their splendid 120 piece band to New Castle Saturday for the game. The local officials have asked that the Warren band take the field previous to the start of the game and stage their fine demonstration. The Warren band will march on the field shortly after 2 o'clock. The kickoff is slated for 2:30 o'clock.

Tickets for the game Saturday have been placed on sale at the Sporting Goods store. Meantime Head Coach Phil Bridenbaugh is getting his "Red Hurricane" machine ready for its biggest test of the season.

Have Weight Advantage
The Warren eleven will have a backfield that will average 172 pounds, which is rather big for high schools. The Warren line will average over 181 pounds. The biggest man on the Warren squad is Jim Nelson a guard from the reserve team last year who tips the beam at 192 pounds.

The lightest man on the Warren squad is Bill Lehto the pass-receiving wizard end, who tips the beam at only 165 pounds. Warren will have five men in the starting lineup that faced New Castle last year at the kickoff in Warren. They are, Georges an end, Byrnes a tackle, McKinney a quarterback, Swede Larson a halfback and Marcello a fullback. Also in the Warren backfield and a triple-threat man is Charley Scarpetti who weighs 175 pounds.

Church Teams To Have Workouts

Six of the New Castle church basketball teams will go to the "Y" tonight for practice sessions as follows:

At 7 o'clock, Central Christians; at 7:30 o'clock, Central Presbyterians; at 8 o'clock, Epworth; at 8:30 o'clock, St. Mary's; at 9 o'clock, First Baptists; at 9:30 o'clock, Third U. P. All players must be prompt in reporting.

Bettina, Wilson Favored To Win

Dunn Will Handle Wilson And Glover In Cleveland Bouts

CLEVELAND, Nov. 12.—There'll be class here Monday night when three battles, 10-rounders are staged in the Arena. Melio Bettina, who has won all 26 starts as a heavyweight, is favored over Jimmy Bivins, Cleveland's colored ace; Jackie Wilson, ex-Cleveland, now a Californian, is also favored over Sammy Secrest, former amateur of the Pittsburgh district, and Max Berger New York, is picked to win from Cleveland's welterweight star, Beau-ford Glover.

Jim Dunn will second Wilson and Glover. He has been handling Wilson, a welterweight star in California and since returning here has been requested and has agreed to train Glover. He would have trained Bivins had differences between Whizbang Carter, who has been training Bivins and Dunn, not arose. After seconding the fighters here Monday night, Dunn will go to New Castle Wednesday to look over some amateur stars there. New Castle is his former home.

STATE COLLEGE, Nov. 12.—Penn State's undefeated freshman football team will attempt to garner their fifth and final victory of the season this afternoon when they meet the Army Plebes at West Point, New York.

The Nittany Lion Cubs have rolled over Bucknell, 19-0; Colgate 21-0; Syracuse, 20-12; and Cornell, 20-6. Outstanding star for the Lions has been Dave Aleton, who has tallied eight of the twelve touchdowns this season.

'Les' To Try For Knockout

Franklin Battles Baxter And Newkirk Fights Bunny Misto

A. A. U. STARS MAY ATTRACT BIG CROWD

There's no doubting the punching power of Les Leasure and when the local middleweight leaves his corner one week from tonight to fight Frankie Barta, Diamond Belt tournament star, he will be seeking a knockout.

Two weeks ago Leasure was matched to box Chet Williams, a runner-up for the national A. A. U. middleweight crown. However, a defense order prevented Chet from leaving his management.

Scores of persons who had journeyed to The Arena to see Les in what may have proved the "Acid test" were disappointed, hence the Jefferson A. C. secured the Diamond Belt star to fight Les one week from tonight.

His two brothers, Al and Baby, will also appear on the calendar. Al will oppose Carl Rausch of Youngstown at 130 and a chap, one Robert, only recently arrived from Brooklyn, will box Baby at 130.

Ex-Soldier in Ring
The K. O. Kid, one Benny Newkirk, who is just out of Uncle Sam's army, will strive for another knockout when he battles Bunny Misto of Youngstown, at 140. This ought to be a whale of a fight.

And the clown of the ring, Muddy Kurtz, will unfurl some new tricks he reports when he battles Pete Misto, at 160. Muddy draws fans like honey attracts flies. However, Pete is all fight and he may be stymied by some who attempts.

By itself, Baxter, who was fighting in his real form two weeks ago when a laceration above an eye forced the referee to call off the fight, will take on Benny Franklin senior 160-pound champion of the Pittsburgh district A. A. U.

This scrap should be a great battle. Franklin is one of the best fighters in the A. A. U. and when "right" no flies linger long on Rusty's gloves. He hopes to stop Franklin and hold the middleweight spotlight of this district.

Chuck Jackson, another Diamond Belt star, will box Ossie Pegge of Youngstown at 116. The bantamweights are fast and with the James vs. Krumbach battle opening the show, there ought to be 1,500 fans in the house next Wednesday night.

SOPHOMORE OF YEAR
By the time he receives his sheepskin in 1942, Billy Hillenbrand, Indiana university's bolt of lightning, should be one of the classiest ball carriers in collegiate football. Hillenbrand is the sophomore prize of the middle west and possibly the top first year man of the season. Billy is a medical student.

ARMY NEMESIS

International News Service Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—Suppose a fellow walks up to you, sticks a gun in your ribs, and says in a blunt businesslike way:

"Name me the four standout backs of this football season—the four players who will be on the most All-American football teams—and make it snappy."

If that were to happen to me right now, I know what I would say, subject to change as the season wears along. I would holler my reply so loud that the fellow probably would be frightened into pulling the trigger by accident, and my answer would be:

"Shoot, you rascal you, but I insist upon being permitted to name all these:

Albert, of Stanford; Sinkwich, of Georgia; Lach, of Duke; Layden and Crain, of Texas; Bruce Smith, of Minnesota; Westfall, of Michigan; Mazur, of army. That's eight or twice as many as our unreasonable character with the guns asks for, and what's more we haven't even begun to blow the horn for him down at Duke, but perhaps waited too long. There is another guy in the South, one Frank Sinkwich, of Georgia, who has been stealing headlines all season. Not that his clippings necessarily make him good. He set out deliberately this year to snare an All-American berth and has had the help of his school's publicity department all along.

What About Jones?
No section and no school has a strange hold on the All-American, or have you heard that one before? In any case, you name four good backs and I'll name four that will come so close to matching them that you'd hate to gamble on some capable impartial jury deciding the issue in your favor. So would I.

Take this Special Delivery Jones at Pitt. He has been up and down this season, but has been playing with a team that couldn't win a game until last Saturday. Suppose he had the help of 10 good tough other men.

Suppose, for instance, he had a line such as the one that Bruce Smith plays behind at Minnesota. Special Delivery might become a legend. It is a notable fact that football is a team and one standout star seldom will shine with a weak eleven. That's one of the reasons why so many All-Americans can be overlooked, when we who attempt to pick them begin weighing records and individual accomplishments.

In any case, Bud, how would you like to meet the guy we were talking about at the start, and have to give him an All-American backfield in five minutes that would stand up?

DiMaggio Named Most Valuable

American League Scribes Name Yankee Slugger As Most Valuable For Second Year

By JACK MAHON

(International News Service Sports Writers)
NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—The saga of Joe DiMaggio—a story which in just ten years carried a gangling Italian kid from a knot hole at the heart of a couple of million baseball fans—goes on, and the latest chapter, in which Joe today finds himself voted the most valuable player in the American League for 1941, undoubtedly will make him the highest priced ball player in America next year and move him a step closer to the hall of fame and a place beside the baseball immortals of yesterday.

Consider just what this 27-year-old fellow has accomplished since that day, a decade ago, when he was discovered peering through a hole in the fence at the San Francisco Seals ball park where his brother Vince was being given a trial.

Great Player
He has been a star of one of the greatest teams in baseball ever since he first went to center field for the Yankees in 1936; he led the league in batting in 1939 and 1940 and finished third with a mark of .357 this year; he has won the most valuable player award twice in the last three seasons and, among other things, this year established a new record for hitting safely in consecutive games when he hit in 56 ball games from May 15 to July 17 to lift the Yankees from the second division to the pennant and subsequent world's championship.

LOTS OF BEER
Close to 200 heavyweights are expected to compete in a white hope tournament in Detroit. Frank Bar-baro, the promoter, seems intent on splashing lard all over the Motor City.

NOW HE PASSES.
Marshall Goldberg, former Pitt All-American, has learned to pass as a professional. Marshall is with the Cardinals of Chicago.

MID-SEASON DRAFT.
Harold Johnson, Monmouth College tackle, was called out of the lineup by Uncle Sam in the middle of the season.

NOT BAD!
Jockey Steve Brooks rode 58 winners in 30 days at Hawthorne this fall.

"All Out" Program At Taggart Stadium As Warren High Game Nears

LOCAL GRID SEASON WILL END SATURDAY

Mrs. Sarah Palfrey Cooke, U. S. tennis champion, advanced to the final round of the Argentine championship Tuesday by defeating her touring companion, Miss Katherine Wintrop, 6-1, 6-2. Duquesne will arrive tonight from the Pacific coast and will immediately return to the grind for the game with Mississippi State, Saturday, at Pittsburgh. The Panthers of Pitt will depart tonight to play the Nebraska Cornhuskers.

Joe DiMaggio, who set the Yankees on fire with a one-man hitting show last season, received official recognition being accredited the most valuable player in the American league. . . . Duke is being booied to beat North Carolina.

Alsab and seven other juveniles will go to the post today in the added Walden handicap at Pimlico. . . . Lou Stringer, second baseman for the Chicago Cubs, took a physical examination for the army yesterday in Los Angeles. However, the report of his examination has not yet been made known.

Fullback Larry Joe of Derry township intercepted a forward pass from Latrobe yesterday and ran 90 yards for a touchdown and six point victory. . . . Slippery Rock soccer team defeated Grove City, 2-1, yesterday at Slippery Rock. . . . Monte Haroff, fullback of West Virginia Tech plucked a pass out of the air and he raced 95 yards to a touchdown. Salem lost 20-0.

BADGERS BEFUDDLED.
The razzle-dazzle of the Syracuse Y formation, with its multiple laterals, behind-the-line and downfield, which reached a high against Wisconsin, was accomplished with a wet ball on a seamy field to the amazement of spectators.

MAJOR AGAIN.
TORONTO—Connie Smythe, for years manager of the Toronto Maple Leafs of the National Hockey league, is back in the Canadian army as a major, the rank he held in World War I.

Amid an occasional sprinkling of snow flurries and a powerful wind, Lawrence county elevens yesterday continued gearing themselves for four important football clashes scheduled this week-end. One victory shy of a clean slate and a possible Pennsylvania state championship, the Bridenbaugh-shepherd flock expects to be in top physical form. . . . New Castle scouts report that the Ohioans loom as the strongest and smoothest opponent to be faced on the card. . . . However, rugged and speedy, Warren will unfurl more than a few intricate grid problems, according to scouts.

The clash, in view of the fact that New Castle is bidding for an untarnished record and the potency of the opponent, looms as the big one. The game, slated to start at 2:30 o'clock, will be played before what promises to be the largest gallery of the campaign.

Other Games
Shenango Township closes its campaign Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock in Greenville, facing Greenville high. The local Class B champs run up against their biggest hurdle of the campaign. A triumph over the tough Mercer county crack out fit would net the Shenango Wildcats their most successful season in many years. . . . Saturday afternoon's program finds Westminster college tackling Bethany away from home, while Bessemer high winds up pickup warfare against Lovellville high, in the Ohio town.

After next Saturday, county teams will junk their moleskins and will commence to concentrate on the impending basketball season.

SPORTS WORLD RAMBLINGS

Tiny sports bits about this and that:

As we sit here wondering what our two readers might like to see in print today, a letter hits the bureau. The note comes from Pittsburgh and informs all and sundry that the Class AA, W.P.I.A.L. committee huddles tonight in Pittsburgh. The gentlemen will discuss the play-off date, site and a few other items that may help to decide the two teams eligible to meet for the football garland.

At this writing, the standing has changed again. Not long ago, New Castle was perched in first place; today the "Canes" are a step away from the doormat. Connellsville and Mt. Lebanon are knotted for the first post, 127½ points apiece. Altoona sits next with 126½, followed by Johnstown which has garnered 125 points. New Castle and Furtle Creek are playing patty-cake in the fifth and sixth slots.

The committee is in the hole. The men can not nominate the right teams. Followers of teams which will not be named will feel, and it's only natural, that their teams deserved the title shot. And, it all adds up to a ticklish problem, for the brave gentlemen who have been assigned the task of picking the two teams.

Looking a bit past the W.P.I.A.L. coronet, we can foresee an event that will be genuine comedy—provided New Castle defeats Warren. In the event that the locals whip the Ohioans, chances are that New Castle will either win or share the Pennsylvania state championship. Wouldn't it be a bit on the bizarre side if New Castle isn't selected to participate in the Double AA title fray and yet it represents the tops in state scholastic football?

Nick Cagnetti, the local sports enthusiast in giving a hitch with the United States Navy, air mails from San Francisco. He witnessed the clash between Duquesne and St. Mary's Sunday and heaps a car load of praise upon Ben Keller, the Dukes' left guard. Keller flouted Ellwood City high's colors not too long ago, and is playing the proverbial bang-up game for the Smoky City team.

Cagnetti sends in a "scoop." He says Duquesne will be in the Sugar Bowl clash if it passes by Mississippi State this Saturday. He got the goods from "very good authority." The local athlete didn't pay a cent to see the game from the 50. Keller slipped Cagnetti a player's comp. Nick accompanied the Duke squad to Joe DiMaggio's famous eatery too.

Wheeler says he'll stump the country to advocate loyalty "if Congress declares war." But in case of undeclared war, which side will you be on?

Another nuisance is the perfectionist who hears you say "a few weeks ago" and interposes: "It was only 13 days and four hours."

Red Cross Drive Opens Nationally

President Calls For Support
For Annual Drive, Red
Cross Plays Major Role

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—The American Red Cross annual roll call for membership was opened by President Roosevelt Tuesday with a call for nationwide enrollment. The chief executive said that success of the drive is of vital concern because of the national defense program and the demand of the European and Sino-Japanese wars on Red Cross relief.

"The vast expansion in our armed forces has increased the cost of this traditional Red Cross work more than we realize," he said. "For every member who supported these services to the armed forces two years ago, ten are needed today."

"Red Cross contributions to our national defense extend far beyond the welfare problems of service men and their families. The Red Cross is playing a major role in civilian defense preparedness. . . . The organization's long established work in disaster relief, emergency first aid, and other essential fields has played a large part in strengthening our home defenses."

Asserting that support for the organization must be increased "very substantially this year," he added that as chief executive and president of the Red Cross "I therefore strongly urge every American to enroll in the American Red Cross."

The drive will continue through November 30 in 3,700 chapters throughout the nation. The Red Cross with a membership of 9,190,474 adults last year, now is seeking 18,000,000 to match its highest list, attained during World War No. 1.

North Mill Street Building Sold

Three Story Building At 26 North Mill Street Is Bought By Robt. Weingartner

Announcement was made today of the sale of the three-story building at 26 North Mill street to Robert A. Weingartner of the floral firm of Cunningham and Weingartner. The sale was made by the executor of the estate of the late Margaret Clendinning Buffington.

Mr. Weingartner expects to remodel the interior of the first floor and sometime early in the spring the floral firm will move from its present location opposite city hall on Washington street.

This is the third recent sale of property in the block between Sveamore way and North street. Recently the Danish Baking company purchased a building in this block and the First Federal Savings & Loan Association has erected a new building upon property across the street.

Andrews Resigns Historical Post

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—Roy Chapman Andrews, internationally famous explorer, Tuesday resigned as director of the American Museum of Natural History.

In a letter to the board of trustees of the museum, Andrews pointed out that the work of the museum was changing as the result of chaotic world conditions. New explorations, he said, could not be carried out. He likewise said his temperament and training were not geared to meet the future financial requirements of the institution.

The board accepted Andrews' resignation. No successor was named immediately. Richard K. Mellon, Pittsburgh banker, was named a new trustee of the museum.

WAR AIDS FARMERS

(International News Service)
CURTIS, Tex.—War is bringing prosperity to DeWitt county farmers. Interruption of transoceanic shipping and the heavy demand in bomb-besieged Britain for concentrated food has created a demand for dried eggs at a local egg-drying plant. Now working at capacity the factory is processing about 3,500,000 eggs weekly. Prices of the fresh eggs from the farms have risen from 12 cents a dozen a year ago, to 23 cents a dozen today.
